China Solicitation Request for Assistance (RFA)
S-OES-08-RFA-003

As part of the U.S. Government's (USG's) participation in the Asia-Pacific Partnership on Clean Development and Climate (APP), the Department of State (DOS) has issued a Request for Assistance (RFA) seeking proposals from U.S. and Chinese organizations interested in contributing to the Partnership's goals through innovative public-private partnerships. These goals include reducing greenhouse gas emissions; advancing sustainable economic growth; reducing poverty; creating new investment opportunities; building local capacity; and improving economic and energy security.

This RFA seeks proposal submissions, from U.S. and Chinese organizations, based on Concept Papers provided in the RFA. All interested lead grant applicant organizations may submit a total of two proposals in response to the RFA. Funding of the selected proposals is totally dependent on, and subject to, availability of Department of State funding for the Asia-Pacific Partnership on Clean Development and Climate.

In support of the RFA, US Department of State representatives will be presenting Proposal Writing Workshops in Beijing China, to assist interested applicants in writing proposals, by providing an overview on how to write, present and submit proposals for this particular Request for Assistance.
